

Byewaste platform expands with a web app

Good news for those who would like to make use of the free Byewaste pick-up service for old items, but could not or did not want to download a mobile app. The Byewaste platform has been expanded with a web app, which allows you to make an appointment via your browser.

The Byewaste service

Byewaste is a pick-up service for old books, electronics, toys, textiles and small household goods with a maximum size of 35 x 55 x 55 cm. The company collects these items from people's homes for free, after which they are given a second life through their network of sustainable partners. For example, the items are donated to one of the thrift stores of Het Goed, or they are reused through parties such as Boekenbalie or local charities.

In this way, the start-up tries to prevent valuable items and materials from being lost among the residual waste, and they help residents give back to their neighbours and the planet. The Byewaste service is currently available in Capelle aan den IJssel and most areas of Rotterdam. More municipalities will be added to this list soon.

How it works

To schedule a pick-up, all you need to do is download the Byewaste app (iOS and Android) or open the web app in your browser. When you enter your home address, you immediately see the available collection dates for your area.

After making an appointment, you only have to put your old items per category in a box or bag, after which you label them with the printable stickers or pen and paper. On the collection date, you have to put the items outside on the street in Capelle aan den IJssel, while the collector rings the doorbell Rotterdam. This way you will enjoy a tidy house in no time!

It is time to say goodbye to waste. We are grateful for all supporters who dream with us about a circular future!
